RECENTLY WE SPENT an enjoyable Saturday afternoon and evening in Hollister where the annual San Benito County horse show was taking place.

We were guests of our neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Gibbons, who operate a trucking concern in San Juan Bautista.

It was a welcome respite for us to get away from the rushing activities that are so much a part of our existence in the urbanized sprawl and to drop across the hill into the bucolic atmosphere that pervades San Benito County.

The annual three-day show/rodeo held in the attractive Bolado Park is one of the most unique events of its kind in the country.

It is strictly for amateurs who must be residents of San Benito County. Even the horses must be raised in the county.

San Benito County activities center around fruit and cattle ranches and the entire county has only a population of 17,000 which is less than the City of Campbell (24,000). Hollister, the county seat, is about 7000 and San Juan Bautista is around 1500.

We imagine the cattle and horse population exceeds the people count.

It was fun to be among the relaxed and friendly residents, and the horses, of that area, even for a day.

The rodeo/show attracts visitors from all over and the grandstand is packed each day.

Many return year after year to enjoy the festivities.

FOR EXAMPLE, MR. AND Mrs. Budd Levenberg, longtime residents of Campbell, are among those "who wouldn't miss it for the world." They have attended the San Benito County event for a number of years.

Budd surprised us in the grandstand shortly after we arrived when he snapped our picture. We hadn't noticed he had sneaked up on us until the flash went off.

Budd and Mrs. Levenberg and their six grandchildren appeared to be thoroughly enjoying the activities in the arena and on the track.

The kids were enthralled by the bucking horses, the bulldogging and the wild horse race.

Come to think of it, we were, too.

FOR A FOUR-DAY PERIOD last week our household was pretty well shaken up, for we went through the traumatic experience of losing a dog.

Losing a pet is always upsetting. But, in our case, it was even more so, for we were dog-sitting for our nephew Jack and his family who were vacationing in Pennsylvania.

That "Buffie", an affectionate little black French Poodle, was recovered after a four-day absence from our domicile is one of those happy endings that, unfortunately, seems to be the exception rather than the rule in the majority of such cases.

Frustrated and helpless after searching the neighborhood, we visited the pound, ran ads and pored over the lost and found columns. (We even called our special dog expert, Sally Howe.)

A surprising number of black poodles seemed to have been lost during that four-day period but darn few of 'em seemed to have been found.

Apparently we were among the fortunate few, for which we will be everlastingly grateful to the woman who picked up "Buffie" and then checked out the license number and obtained the address and phone number of the dog's owner, our nephew, Jack.

When no one answered the phone at Jack's house, "Buffie's" benefactor then made a KIWANIS vs. ROTARY—In the annual softball game played on Monday at the Campbell High field, the Kiwanis Club, allegedly, defeated the Rotary Club by a 9-6 score in a game that, as usual, probably set the sport back another 10 years.

Although Rotarians were out in force and were able to field (?) almost three full teams while the Kiwanians had to scratch to place one full team of able-bodied(?) players(?) on the diamond, victory again went to Campbell's oldest service club. (There is a moral here someplace.)

The only serious casualty occurred in the contest when Lloyd Nelson of the Kiwanis, in attempting to snag a high fly, got his finger in the way of the ball. The ball popped out and so did Lloyd's finger and a bad break resulted.

No attempt will be made to specifically identify the above-pictured ballplayers(?), just take it potluck. Some of those who participated in the traditional game on Monday had played in every one of the annual classics(?) since the affair was started almost 20 years ago.

And, according to some of the observers of the game, their play clearly indicated that fact.

Not necessarily in that order, of course. But then order is not really important in the annual battle.

It's a tradition.

Closing of White Oaks concerns City

Should White Oaks Road be closed as a through street between Camden and Bascom avenues? Not now, the Council ruled Monday night.

That was the question that concerned the City Council Monday night after Councilman Ralph Doetsch maintained that, although the residents on White Oaks had indicated by petition they wanted the street closed, such an action could adversely affect the residents on Shelley and Redding in the same general area.

Doetsch claimed that the closing of the street would send extra traffic through the Shelley-Redding area and reemphasized that that section was more a part of Campbell than the county area of White Oaks.

The matter came before the Council when Bill Wren, publics works director, informed the Council that the contractor for the state highway project at White Oaks - Camden had suggested that White Oaks could be closed during the construction to facilitate work on the job.

Wren indicated that he thought it was a good idea because, in his opinion, the Council had indicated previously during hearings on the matter, that two cul-d-sacs might eventually be the solution for the traffic problem on the street.

He added that the current petition to the county public works department from residents of White Oaks asking that the street be closed had re-opened the issue and that the state was now concerned as to what effect this protest would have on the freeway project that was now under way.

Complicating matters is that the industrial area off Camden to Redding is within the city limits of Campbell and representatives of firms in the area want the street open.

The Council went along with Doetsch's viewpoint and stipulated that the contractor would have to allow through traffic on the street during the construction period.

In another related matter, the Council reluctantly approved a proposal for the City to join with the State in constructing oversize storm drains in the Camden-Highway 17 interchange area.

The storm drains will serve areas east of Camden Ave. and

New city hall cost drops via air conditioner

Campbell's new city hall, now under construction, will not have a complete air conditioning system when it is opened next year at a saving in construction costs of $14,894,000, a cost-minded City Council ruled Monday night.

Approved was the change order recommended by Bill Hedley, architect, which removed the air conditioner with prior agreement by the contractor.

Acting on Hedley's recommendation the Council also agreed that the saving from an inferior paneling was not worth the chips and reverted to the original paneling which costs $525 more.

The net saving for the evening on the city hall came to $14,369 which brings the new contract amount down to $745,013.

In other related city hall matters, the Council directed that bids go out for counters and cabinets for the new city hall to cost between $8000 and $10,000. The built-ins will be built by sub-contractors but installed by the general contractor, R. V. Frazier.

It was also decided for staff to further investigate all means of obtaining a public address system for the new Council chambers instead of employing a specialist to draw up specifications for the system.

The Council also approved a change order on the completed Sunnyoaks fire station that resulted in a $1107.47 rebate to the city, deducted from the final payment.

After the deduction, the overall cost of the fire station is $301,305.53.

Planners to meet

City Manager Bob Stephens will appear again before the Planning Commission next Monday, July 20, with the city's six-year capital improvement program. At the last meeting, the Commission asked for additional time to study the program before acting on it.

Before the Commission also next Monday will be the unique proposal of Guild West for approval of landscaping and site approval of the city-owned lot next to an office building at 80 Gilman.

Guild West wants to develop the city parcel into a parking lot for joint use.

School districts vote on July 21

In a special election next Tuesday, July 21, electorate in the Campbell Union High School District will vote on the question of increasing the maximum tax rate for the district while voters in Campbell Union (elementary) District will also elect a trustee.

The consolidated ballot will be used only in the Campbell elementary district, as the high school district includes four other elementary districts (Moreland, Cambrian, Union and Burbank), in addition to Campbell.

HIGH SCHOOL VOTE

It will be the second time this year for the voters in the Campbell Union High School District to ballot on the proposed 35-cent tax hike. On February 17, the district electorate rejected a similar measure by a 7,925 to 6,179 vote.

The measure calls for boosting the district's maximum tax rate from $1.35 per $100 assessed valuation to $1.70. The increased would be for five years.

Only about 18% of the 69,500 registered voters in the district went to the polls on February 17 and officials are not expecting any more of a turnout, if as much, next Tuesday.

Since the turndown at the polls, a number of economy measures have been undertaken by the district but district officials feel that because of rising costs further drastic cuts will have to be made which could jeopardize the educational program in the district unless the tax hike is approved.

ELEMENTARY DISTRICT

Next Tuesday's election will also be the second time this year that Campbell Union (elementary) District has held a special election for trustees.

Five candidates are seeking the vacancy on the board created by the resignation of John M. Merriell.

On February 17 this year Richard MacQuiddy was elected to the board of trustees after William S. Parton had resigned.

Present state legislation specifies that elections must be called to fill vacancies on the board. Formerly they were filled by appointment.

In the February 17 election, MacQuiddy headed the field of eight candidates with a vote of 1861 with Mrs. Judy Ruscigno, a housewife, at 1516 San Gabriel Way, finishing a strong second with 1465.

The rest of the candidates trailed far behind with George Talley, an office manager, of 3220 Jade Ave., in third place with 767 votes.

Mrs. Ruscigno, Talley, and S. David Dinno, of 259 Old Adobe Rd., Los Gatos, who was also a candidate February 17 when he received 91 votes, are on the ballot again next Tuesday.

The two other candidates in next Tuesday's election are Owen D. Dimock, a dentist, of 359 Phantom Ave. and Mrs. Joan D. Franks, a housewife, of 1108 Greenbriar Ave.

On February 17 there were 5,534 votes cast in the elementary district, or about 20% of the 26,779 registered.

Council files critical letter

"Noted and filed" was the official action taken by the City Council Monday night on a "letter of censure" from five members of the Planning Commission who claimed that a Council action, in overruling them in the drive-in theater zoning matter, was without proper foundation.

Before "noting and filing", the letter was read by City Clerk Dorothy Trevethan.

Kel Young, former Planning Commission member who was defeated for the City Council in April, then took the floor to expand on the commissioners' criticism of the Council.

Before the motion was adopted, Mayor Dean Chamberlin emphasized that the Council was the responsible body in the city in such actions and City Attorney Joe Bonacina indicated that the lengthy hearings that were held on the matter, in his opinion, warranted sufficient reasons for the Council action.

In a related matter, the Council gave first reading to the ordinance that would change the zoning on the theater parcel from R-3-S to M-1-S, a necessary action before a third screen can be placed on the property.

Three apply for planning board

Three applications for appointment to the Planning Commission were filed with the City Council on Monday night. A vacancy will exist when the term of Thayer Lyons expires on August 1. Lyons has asked not to be reappointed.

Don Hebard, chairman of the Parks and Recreation Commission; Kent Kirkorian, local developer and Belie B. Williams, associated with a real estate syndication firm, have submitted letters.

Mayor Dean Chamberlin appointed Councilman Ralph Doetsch and Bill Smeed to interview the applicants and report at the next meeting.

Norm Paul, whose term is also expiring on Aug. 1, has filed a letter for reappointment.

Acting on the recommendation of Wally Byron, the Council appointed Thayer Lyons, retiring Planning Commissioner with years of construction background, to the Building Department Board of Appeals.

Former councilman and mayor, Homer Hyde was appointed as this city's representative on the policy-making body for the transit measure vote in November.

Oscar Sorenson to retire

Ed Fabbri becomes manager of both branches of Bank of America in town

Ed J. Fabbri, manager of the Campbell Ave. branch of the Bank of America since April, 1969, will also become manager of the Hamilton Ave. branch succeeding Oscar S. Sorenson who will retire on July 31 after 43 years of service to the Bank of America.

James Wiesler, regional vice-president for the Bank of America, in announcing the appointment, pointed out that this marks the first time in Campbell that one manager has assumed the responsibilities of both branches.

Sorenson, who is winding up a banking career that spans four decades, has been manager of the Hamilton Ave. branch in town since 1962.

Under construction now in the Pruneyard is a new Bank of America building into which the Hamilton Ave. branch will be moved when it is completed. It is anticipated that moving day will be in mid-October.

Fabbri joined the Bank of America in 1936 and has served with the Bank of America in San Jose, Fremont, Monterey, Gilroy and Soledad.

Fabbri became manager of the Campbell Ave. branch in April, 1969 and since his arrival in Campbell has taken an active part in community affairs. He was elected to the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce in January of this year and is chairman of the local United Fund campaign. He is also a mem- Club.

Sorenson, during his eight years in Campbell, has also been active in civic affairs. He served a four-year term as a director of the C. of C.

Editorial

Let's clear the air

A number of Planning Commissioners have indicated in a letter to the City Council that they are displeased with a recent zone change action taken by the City Council which upheld the appeal of Syufy Enterprises from a Planning Commission recommendation.

In a letter the disgruntled commissioners claim that the decision to uphold the appellant in that case was taken without proper foundations and no reasons were given specifying why the Commission erred in its decision to deny the zone change.

The unhappy Commissioners maintain that such a situation is "untenable".

It is only reasonable to expect the Planning Commissioners to be displeased when they are overruled in such situations. That is a natural reaction.

BUT it must be remembered that the Planning Commission is purely an advisory body.

The members are appointed by the City Council to serve in an advisory capacity on zoning and planning matters.

They do not make the laws.

There is only ONE legislative body in this city...the City Council.

There is only ONE body in this city that is responsible for the city's finances...the City Council.

In fact the City Council is basically responsible for the entire operation of the city...not the Planning, Parks and Recreation, or the Youth Advisory commissions.

And even the City Manager administers the city at the discretion of the City Council.

We believe that those Commissioners who feel that the City Council is at fault in overruling their "advice" have somewhat lost their perspective.

It is the City Council's prerogative to approve or disapprove the recommendations made by the advisory bodies, for it is the City Council alone that must answer ultimately and not the Planning Commission.

The City Council could not delegate its responsibilities in these zoning matters, even if it so desired.

This is not to say that the City Council should not heed the recommendations of its advisory bodies.

And the record will show that, in the majority of cases, the Council has gone along with the commissions' "advice".

We maintain that the Commissioners must recognize that their function is limited, as members of an advisory body appointed by the City Council. This intra-city bickering in this particular zone-change case serves no useful purpose.

In our opinion it weakens the overall effectiveness of the Planning Commission and it creates friction between the Planning Commission and City Council that could be detrimental to the city as a whole.

That is disturbing because the particular zone-change matter which has upset members of the Planning Commission is an issue in which the vast majority of the citizens of this city have shown little interest.

We concede that the number of people involved or interested should not be a criterion for policy decisions...It is the principle or policy that counts.

Therefore, we are assuming that the theater zone-change issue must be just a culmination of a series of grievances that, apparently, some of the Commissioners feel has made the situation "untenable".

We must also assume that the situation seems to be getting no better. Chances are, with the so-called "letter of censure" to the City Council, conditions will not improve in the future.

We respectfully submit then that, if these Commissioners are convinced the situation is "untenable", they should submit their resignations to the City Council.

In that way, their protests would carry much more weight than if they continue to serve in a charged atmosphere, widening a gap of misunderstanding.

In our opinion, the letter that was forwarded to the City Council has placed both the Planning Commission and City Council in awkward positions.

Somehow the perspective has been lost as to what the overall objective is. We doubt if it will ever be regained and the City as a whole could suffer as a result.

We find no fault with having disagreements or differences of opinion.

But these differences and disagreements should not be allowed to spread to such a degree that they will do irreparable harm to the operation of our city government.

Therefore, if the disturbed Commissioners feel that the situation will not improve, they should, in our opinion, remove themselves from it.

Wasn't it President Truman who said, "if you can't stand the Heat, get out of the Kitchen"?

It is not unusual to have these conflicts in city governmental bodies.

In a neighboring city, not so long ago, the Council terminated the terms of some Planning Commissioners who had publicly declared their opposition to the Council's policies.

So, we repeat, nothing can be gained by these intra-city bickerings and indications seem to be that "the letter" has added fuel to the fire that apparently has been smoldering for some time.

So let's clear the air. The citizens of this community deserve that.

Vote YES Tuesday

For the second time this year, a proposed 35-cent tax hike will be before the voters of the Campbell Union High School District in the special election next Tuesday, July 21.

Although the district trustees have eliminated some of the enrichment classes and have planned for larger classes in the district's eight high schools, increasing costs will force further curtailments that could jeopardize the excellent educational program of the district.

Therefore, as we did for the February 17 election, we are recommending a "YES" vote for the tax increase next Tuesday, July 21.

For school trustee

The Campbell Press usually refrains from making any endorsements to school trustee elections.

However, The Press is making an exception in the special election next Tuesday, July 21, in which five candidates are seeking election for the one vacancy that exists on the Campbell Union (elementary) School Board.

This is being done this time because we are mindful of the fact that schools today are facing a challenge of a type that has never existed before in our history and the need for outstanding leadership by the governing bodies of our schools is of paramount importance.

Therefore, The Press is recommending the election of Mrs. Judy Ruscigno next Tuesday as the candidate who will offer both the leadership and the philosophy that, we submit, is needed.

Planning director summarizes modifications to zoning code

BY ART KEE
Planning Director

After reviewing and discussing possible modifications for improving the architectural and site review sections of the Zoning Code for the City of Campbell at two previous meetings, the Planning Commission on July 6, recommended that four sections of the code be modified.

The first area of modification will add provisions for the Planning Commission to appoint an architect or licensed building designer to serve in an advisory capacity to the architectural review committee.

The committee which now consists of two members of the Planning Commission would continue to make its recommendations to the Planning Commission.

A second area of modification relates to the duties of the Planning Director.

Site review applications for single-family, two-family, and three-family dwellings can now be considered and decided by the director and the text amendment to this section proposes that the Planning Director may also review and decide applications for minor additions or alterations to buildings and minor changes in plans which have been previously approved by the Planning Commission.

Minor changes are limited to modification of the plot or site plan and elevations that will not change the overall character of the proposed development and will not exceed a cost of $5,000.

A third proposed modification is to the appeal section. Provisions are proposed which provide that decisions of the Planning Director may be appealed to the Planning Commission.

The last modification concerns the length of time that architectural and site approvals are in effect. The present time length of six months is proposed to be changed to one year.

in the White Oaks area. What griped the Council, however, was that both San Jose and county areas would benefit from the project without helping to pay for it.

The Council on Monday awarded the contract for the traffic warning system at Leigh Ave. at Sheffield to Rosendin Electric for a bid of $3911 which was below the engineer's estimate of $4402.75. Five bids were received ranging to a high of $4721.

In contrast no bids were received for the minor paving job on Winchester Blvd. at Rosemary.

After hearing reports from the fire and engineering departments, the Council took no action on the request of A. C. Currie that the fire hydrant at 2094-2096 Winchester Blvd. be moved.

The departments reported that a parking study showed that ample parking spaces were available within a block and that it was essential that the hydrant remain where it was.

special trip across town with the dog and contacted the neighbors who had, naturally, been alerted about "Buffie's" disappearance.

As you can well imagine, the return of "Buffie" was one of the most dramatic productions of the year, as far as our house was concerned.

Jack's four little guys, ranging from four to 11, had not been informed that "Buffie" was gone. She is an important part of that group, you can believe. And it was pretty horrible trying to figure what and how we would have to tell 'em, eventually.

It would have been upsetting to them.

Almost as much as it was to us.

VISITING A DOG POUND is not pleasant at any time.

But when one is trying to search for one's lost pet among the animals yipping in their cages, it becomes terribly gruesome. We know.

And the sad situation is compounded further by the tearful kids (and adults also) searching for their pets.

We learned also that "business" was especially heavy over the Fourth of July weekend (when we were looking for "Buffie") because fireworks bursting indiscriminately had caused many dogs to take off away from the banging.

There were no black poodles in the pound when we were there. But we noted many had been lost.

In one of those coincidental head-shaking developments during our search for "Buffie", we chased after a black poodle across an open field, just a few blocks from our house.

Only to find that it wasn't "Buffie".

In case some of you think we have devoted too much time and space to this saga of the dog, we couldn't agree with you more.

But there will be some, we hope, who will be understanding, e.g., those who have (1) dogs or (2) kids.

Or some of both.

RIDING TRAINS IS BEcoming an activity that is being relegated to the dark ages (i.e., World War II era), so, if you want to get aboard, you had better hop on soon.

At least, that was the impression we gathered after our Dorothy had transported our nephew and family to the Santa Fe station in Richmond where they boarded the train that took them to Pennsylvania.

It could possibly be that it might be the last train ride the kids will ever take of that magnitude.

We accompanied Dorothy on the ride to the station and not having been exposed to train travel since World War II days to any great extent, we marveled at the changes that had taken place since the good old days. Not for the better, we might add.

Of course, there were some liabilities that particular day that didn't help the overall picture to any great extent.

It happened to be the hottest day of the year.

And the air-conditioner in Dorothy's car had quit on the way up.

It sorta warmed things up a bit for the four adults and the four kids in the car.

Under such conditions, we might have taken a dim view of the most modern airliner.

We will have to take another look one of these days. At a train, that is.

If there is time.

PHONE CALLS IN THE middle of the night, awakening one from a sound sleep, very definitely have an upsetting impact that scares the living daylights out of a person.

We have received such calls and we know what we are talking about. Of course, some people take them in stride.

But the Rev. Ben Gould reported a call that he received at 1:45 a.m. recently that even shook him up. And that's better than par for the course.

It came from the Highway Patrol office in Santa Cruz.

The caller, a CHP officer, called collect. After first ascertaining that Ben was the father of young Bill (mind you this was at 1:45 a.m.) he said he had a message.

Ben, because of his profession, is generally well prepared for almost any eventuality.

But there is a difference when one's son is involved, even for a minister.

"We have a wallet that we have identified that belongs to your son," the CHP officer informed Ben.

It had been found in a service station where young Bill had stopped for gas.

You know we forgot to ask Ben what he said after he had recovered.

AMEN.

Council wants program change

Councilmen on Monday agreed that the in-service training incentive program for employees in which the City would assist financially was a good idea. They were all for it.

But they thought there should be some agreement whereby the employee would stay with the City for a period of time after he was helped educationally and financially.

So the program, which was recommended by City Manager Bob Stephens, was returned to staff to work out details on that phase.

Representatives of the firefighters union took part in the discussion but misinterpreted the Council's position. They thought the Council was opposing the program and Mayor Dean Chamberlin was unable to establish communication on the proper wavelength.

Under the program, the employee will be reimbursed by the City for approved courses.

Saturday car wash aids new Del Mar team

For the first time in Del Mar High School's history, the 1970-71 school year will have a drill team to perform at the school events.

Seventeen girls have grouped together toward this end. They meet three times a week, two to practice drilling in the school's football bowl, the other to work out plans to choose the type of uniform, find a seamstress who will make them, and figuring the monumental task of doing things which will finance the cost of the uniforms.

Parents and local businesses have cooperated with enthusiasm. Towne Pride Market, Peter Lico, owner, has hosted two bake sales. On Saturday, July 18, "Chuck", manager of the newly opened "Chuck's" Hancock Station, Union at Campbell Avenue is offering its premises and equipment to the team for a car-wash, from 10 a.m. - 5 p.m. at the cost of ninety-nine cents.

Tickets are available from team members and "Drop-In" trade is welcome. Charlie Cole, handwriting analyst, has furnished much of the team's publicity.

Future plans of the girls include garage sales, a "flea" market sale, as well as more bake sales and car-washes.

Members of this enthusiastic group are: Rose Marie Beebe, Janie Burke, Sarah Cole, Kim Donovan, Kathy Gage, Lori Garrison, Jenny Johnson, Marie Lico, Kace Lockhart, Jeri Medler, Sylvia Miller, Elaine Plesha, April Roberts, Michelle Ryman, Chris Sawyer, Michele Stevens, and Barbara Urbani.

AUXILIARY MEETING

The Campbell Community Hospital Auxiliary will hold their regular meeting Thursday, July 16 in the Conference Room at Campbell Community Hospital, 1650 Winchester Blvd.

Members of the board will convene at 10 a.m. with the regular meeting at 10:30 a.m. Presiding will be Mrs. Carl Mattison, president.

Widowed Parents hold informal

Widowed parents are especially invited to participate in an informal swim-buffet to be held Sunday, July 19 under the sponsorship of the Parents Without Partners.

Reservations are required and further information may be had by calling Evelyn Santos, 294-7710 or Gladys Clark, 293-3152.

A series of summer parties has been planned by the San Jose Widowed Parents group.

SUMMER HAPPENING

The public is invited to visit the Santa Clara County Girl Scouts exhibit this week at the Civic Plaza Mall, El Camino and Scott Blvd. in Santa Clara. A simulation of varied craft projects will be presented from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m.

AT CONFERENCE

A number of Jehovah's Witnesses from Campbell will be among those attending the four-day district assembly held at the Oakland-Alameda County Coliseum this weekend. According to Salvatore Pavone, presiding minister of the local congregation, the meeting is expected to draw 30,000.

Children to present play

Saturday mornings in August have been set for the production of the Campbell Children's Theater presentations at the Gaslighter Theater, 400 E. Campbell Ave.

The children's plays, directed by LeRoy Del Carlo, will open August 1 with "The Show of All Ages", "The Haunting Shadows" and "The Bamboo Princess" all scheduled for production during August and September 5.

The Gaslighter Theater is under the direction of Don and Faye Cupp who present melodrams shows every Friday and Saturday nights at 8:30 p.m.

Del Carlo stated that more talent is needed by the children's theater, and no experience is necessary. If your child yearns to be an actor here is a chance for him (or her) to gain experience "troding the boards". Phone 379-1442 for tickets and information on joinint the Children's Theater Group.

MYF sponsors coffee hour

Coffee, Tea and Thee, is the name that has been chosen for the "Coffee House" to be held at the First United Methodist Church, 1675 Winchester Blvd., July 19 from 8 to 11 p.m.

The affair, sponsored by the Methodist Youth group, offers good music, song, poetry, as well as good companionship. No charge will be made for admission and coffee and tea will be sold for ten cents and up.

August Wedding Date

SUSAN NORRIS

August 8 in Sacramento has been set as the wedding date for Miss Susan Norris and Stephen Jon Larson.

Miss Norris is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Kenneth Norris of Sacramento. A school psychologist, she received her B.A. and M.S. in psychology from San Jose State College. She is a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma.

Stephen is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Larson of Thornton Way, San Jose. A 1959 graduate of Campbell High School, he also received his B.A. and M.A. in history at San Jose State. While attending San Jose State he served as student body president.

Stephen has completed a term as a Peace Corps Volunteer in Guyana, South America and is presently serving as a consultant to the State Senate Selection Committee on Rapid Transit.

The engagement was announced to the family of the bride-to-be on May 10 during a dinner gathering in her grandfather's home in Oakland. A buffet dinner in the groom's home on June 14 celebrated the news in San Jose.

The young couple plan on making their home in Sacramento.

YES fills 85 job openings

The Youth Employment office presently has a few jobs to be filled, according to Bridget Lee, Youth Director of the YES office.

A total of 312 students signed up for jobs, and 103 job offers were received, with 85 already being filled. Bridget reports that 103 students have been sent out on interviews. Still to be filled are two jobs involving work in a motel, one a maid job and the other maintenance work. Both of these are part time.

Yard work jobs and a few baby sitting jobs are still open, with the prospect that the work will run into the school year on a part-time basis.

Phone 378-1666 if you have a job to offer a teen-ager or you are a youth looking for a job during the summer.

REMEMBER TO VOTE

ON CAPITOL HILL

with "Charlie" Gubser

In the past decade great strides have been taken in the courts and in the halls of Congress toward the goal of eliminating racial discrimination. But with another form of discrimination–against women–it is a different story.

Recently the courts held that McSorley's bar in New York, which had followed a "men only" policy for more than a century, would be required to open its doors to and serve ladies. But legislative efforts aren't as productive of results as court decisions, as Representatives Martha Griffiths (D-Mich.) and Catherine May (R-Wash.), sponsors of the "Equal Rights for Women" amendment, are beginning to find out.

The amendment would state simply that "equality of rights under the law shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or by any state on account of sex." It would invalidate more than 1,000 state laws which the ladies say discriminate against females.

In some states women receive longer jail sentences than men for the same crime on the excuse that it "takes longer to rehabilitate them." In another state a wife's clothing legally belongs to her husband. Other discriminatory laws concern property and inheritance rights, management of earnings, and custody of children.

So-called "protective laws" in many states are keeping women out of better paying jobs under the guise of "protecting them in their childbearing status." Among these are laws which prohibit women from working where weights of over 35 pounds are lifted.

Congresswoman Griffiths, a native of Detroit, says the UAW has negotiated contracts which pay women less than men and cite weight-lifting as the reason. Says Mrs. Griffiths: "My husband negotiates with management and he says there is not a man in Detroit who lifts anything. It's all done by machine. Women are not protected by protectionist laws, men are."

1969 figures reveal that annual wages for a woman with a four-year college education averaged $6,694, while a man with a comparable education earned $11,795. The average male with an eighth-grade education makes almost as much as the female college graduate.

Some arguments against the Equal Rights Amendment are based upon economics. Hard-headed businessmen contend that despite a female's intentions, it is a good bet that she will eventually choose motherhood and quit her job. A male can make no such choice and so is a better long-term investment.

Other arguments hinge on whether women should be subject to everything men are, including the draft. Miss Alice Paul, founder of the National Women's Party, answers thusly: "There would be one law for all. Men and women would be utilized in the way they could serve best, which means that women wouldn't go into combat. I think women are ready to accept their responsibilities with their rights."

In 1648 when Margaret Brent formally petitioned the Maryland House of Delegates for women's equal rights she started a battle which the fair sex is gradually winning and will someday result in total victory–After all, what man ever said "no" to a woman and made it stick?

REACHING FOR THE SUN–This 15-foot high sunflower is a volunteer, growing in the backyard of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Heilig, 575 Virginia Ave. Two "arms" have sprouted at the bottom of the plant, and each bears a smaller blossom as seen on the left. The lofty plant is taller than many of the surrounding trees.

13 bikes stolen during week

Thirteen bikes were reported stolen in the Campbell area during the last week, according to Campbell police records. Five were reported missing from the Campbell High School area, two from the Pruneyard Shopping Center, one each from the West Valley College and Rolling Hills School and four from private residences where they had been left on the lawn.

At the Parts Mart, 919 Camden Ave., clerk William Hudson, reported to Campbell police officers Friday, July 10, that he was really trying to help a couple of customers. He was so engrossed in his work that he failed to notice a third "customer", who helped himself to two tires and two aluminum wheels, valued at $210.

The police report indicated that the three customers were possibly a team, with the first two distracting the clerk, allowing the third to carry out the tires and wheels.

MRS. RICHARD HEMINGWAY

New-weds to live in Michigan

A lovely silk organza gown over satin with Alencon re-embroidered lace appliques and pearls was designed and made by Karen Lou Brandon for her wedding day, Saturday, July 11. The gown was fashioned with pearls over the empire bodice, A-line skirt and full chapel train.

The First United Methodist Church of Campbell was the scene of the exchange of vows between Karen and her bridegroom, Richard Elmer Hemingway. Officiating was the Rev. William G. Gould.

Karen carried a cascade of white orchids and stephanotis blossoms and her ensemble was completed with a cluster of organza and pearl flowers with tulle petals on her cathedral veil.

Mrs. Ron Fernandez, as honor attendant, wore a chartreuse green rayon-acetate line weave gown fashioned with a long, full culotte skirt, empire bodice, sleeveless with a high neckline.

Wearing identical gowns, in parrot green, were Mrs. Paul Brandon, sister-in-law of the bride; Mrs. Kenneth Stoddard, the groom's sister and Miss Jeannette Lamy. They all carried cascades of gold and yellow chrysanthemums.

Serving as flower girl was Miss Sharel Fernandez in a short party dress of pale chartreuse green and carrying yellow daisies.

The new Mrs. Hemingway is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis E. Brandon of Campbell. A graduate of Camden High School and San Jose State College, she did post-graduate work at Indiana University, San Jose State College and University of Oregon. She is employed as an elementary music teacher in Auburn Heights, Michigan.

Richard is the son of Mrs. E. E. Hemingway and the late Mr. Hemingway of Lansing, Michigan. For his best man he chose Richard Wiehe of Ft. Wayne, Indiana. Ushering were his brother, David Hemingway, from Lansing, Michigan; his cousin, Robert Sherman, of Dimondale, Michigan; Paul Brandon of Seattle, Washington, the bride's brother and Capt. Charles Allison from Fort Ord.

Richard holds a B.A. degree from Macalaster College, Minn. and a M.B.A. from Indiana University. He is employed by the Fold Motor Co., Tractor Division, finance department in Troy, Michigan.

The wedding ceremony was preceded by a lovely musical program of special significance to the bride, an accomplished flutist and music educator. Included were selections by Kenneth Seylar on the organ, flute solos by the Misses Jeannette Lamy and Nancy Wolin, vocal selections by Mrs. Deen Stice of Saratoga and trumpet embellishments for the organ processional and recessional by Thomas Stice.

Following the ceremony the newly-weds greeted their guests in the church fellowship hall before leaving on their honeymoon in Nassau, Bahamas.

Mr. and Mrs. Hemingway will be making their new home in Troy, Michigan.

Violet Society hears talk

"Miniature Violets" will be the subject of a talk and slide program presented at the Tuesday, July 21 meeting of the African Violet Society of the South Bay. Mrs. Byron Tompkins will be the guest speaker. The meeting will be held at 1 p.m.

The meeting will be conducted by Mrs. C. D. McGee, president. The social hour will follow with Mrs. Bee Keesey as hostess for the day.

Boy Scouts

Webelos Scout camp opens

Webelos in the Pioneer District, Boy Scouts of America will have their own camp-out day, with their dads on August 1 and 2 at Camp Stuart.

Registration cards to all active Unit and Webelos leaders have already been mailed and must be returned by July 24 to the Scout office.

Program activities include archery, swimming, nature study, crafts, cooking, camping, hiking and campfires. All boys attending must be accompanied by parent or guardian.

Scouting in the Campbell area will be on the increase if the plans formulated by Pioneer District Leaders, Boy Scouts of America at their recent meeting have anything to do with it.

September 29 has been designated as School Night for Scouting, with boys and their parents to be invited to the 50 schools in the Pioneer District where the scouting program will be explained by scouts and their leaders. Participation in scouting is expected to increase 1000 boys.

Sponsors for new units and adult leaders will also be sought at this time.

Plans were also discussed for District participation in a Rally to be held in downtown San Jose, early in October.

A presentation of a simplified program for all scouting units to become involved in conservation work was offered by Nick Nichols, conservation committee chairman. Work in the Santa Cruz mountains would be involved.

Pioneer District includes Campbell, Cambrian Park, parts of Los Gatos and San Jose. Adults and boys interested in scouting should call 378-2407 for information.

Mail to speed up WV College registration

Those new and returning students in West Valley College's extended day program for the fall semester can avoid long lines for registration by one simple procedure.

Students are urgently requested to register by mail beginning July 21 through July 23 and from July 27 through July 31 from 6 to 9 p.m. On these evenings students may come to Room A-17 on the Campbell campus and pick up a registration packet which can then be filled out at home.

In this way students will avoid the crush of lines which usually accompany registration in person during the fall registration period.

Those who fail to take advantage of the registration by mail procedure will have to pick up a registration packet and then return to the campus in the fall on a given date to register for classes remaining open after the registration by mail is completed July 31.

Further information on the procedure can be obtained by calling the Office of Admissions, 379-1733, extension 62.

Candidate cites responsibility schools have to local taxpayers

Taxpayers have the right to demand responsibility in discharging the public trust, Mrs. Judy Ruscigno, candidate for the Campbell Union (elementary) School District, emphasized this week. The election will be held next Tuesday, July 21.

Mrs. Ruscigno, of 1516 San Gabriel Way, a housewife and mother and a graduate of Campbell schools and San Jose State, cited the results of the June primary as an indication that the people want local control in the school district and that the day of "accountability" is upon the schools.

She also maintained that a modernization of business management procedures is desperately needed for the benefit of the district and she also called attention to the growing demand of a politically active element in teacher organizations whose demands are beyond the financial ability of the taxpayer.

Mrs. Ruscigno submits that the trustees must act to unify the district so that the pressure for the demands will not bring about a division between the administration and teacher organizations that will be detrimental to the children's education.

Guidelines and standards of conduct must be set by the schools, she added, and that the trustees should hold professional staff and students accountable for their actions.

SCHOLARSHIP AWARD---Miss Terry Young, second from right, was the recipient of the Orchard City Grange No. 333 scholarship for the year.

A Campbell High School graduate, Terry will attend the West Valley College for the next two years, majoring in nursing, and physical therapy on a child level. With Terry are her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Young, 963 Old Orchard Road, on the left, and Fred Johnson, Grange master, making the presentation.

Public works officials form area chapter

Bill Wren, public works director for the City of Campbell, has been elected secretary of the newly-formed chapter of the American Public Works Association.

The association is a nationwide organization devoted to serving the taxpaying public through the development and advancement of improved practices within the public works profession, according to Wren.

Other charter officers of the new "South Bay Chapter" include, Sam Cristofano, public works director of Santa Clara, president; Lou Larson, chief engineer for George S. Nolte Engineers, vice-president; and Jim Bailey, engineering supervisor of the peninsula division of Pacific Telephone, treasurer.

The 150 members of the new chapter were formerly associated with the northern California chapter in Berkeley and it is expected that the national directors will approve the new chapter in August and that a charter meeting will be held in September when Lyle Pardee, public works director of Los Angeles, will present the charter. The group is tentatively meeting in Sunnyvale.

DEAN'S LIST

SPORTS FANS!

I BET YOU DIDN'T KNOW

By Al Salciccia

We think of stock car racing as a comparatively new sport, but did you know that the first stock car race in America was held way back in 1899, in Detroit–and that was before the first Rose Bowl game was ever played, before the first World Series, and before almost every other major sports event in America.

Here's an interesting fact about golf that shows, more than anything else, how this game has grown...In 1934, the leading money winner in pro golf, Paul Runyan, won a total of just over $6,000 all year–and he was the LEADING money winner, which means everybody else made less...Today's leading money winners make almost 40 times more than that, or over $200,000 a year!

A 1-0 game featured the playoffs when Valley Athletic defeated Optimists when both pitchers in the classic, Mike Coderali and John Asquith, each hurled one-hitters and each struck out 14 men.

Galardi beat Straw Hat 5-3 and 4-2 and Valley Athletic 9-1 before bowing to Valley Athletic in the double-header for the crown.

NEW BOOKS AT THE LIBRARY

LAST PLANE OUT, by John Ball (Fiction)

Last Plane Out is a novel about planes and the men who fly them because there is nothing that they would rather do. This is the story of pilots, co-pilots, navigators, technicians, ground crews and the women who tie together the threads of their lives. These are the people whose existence is justified by their working with and understanding aircraft, who will sacrifice practically anything in their determination to fly, not for greed or glory, but because they can live no other way.

NEW BOOKS AT THE LIBRARY

THE HERON, by Giorgio Bassani (Fiction)

The author takes up the abiding theme: Estrangement from reality and the powerful attraction of death. Edgardo Limentano, a member of the Jewish community, decides to spend a day hunting for waterfowl in the marshlands, but as the day advances, it takes on a curious, obsessive quality. Reality recedes as it were behind a plate glass, time and space become distorted. A wounded heron comes within his view and watching its agony he identifies with the bird. Like the heron, he is an essentially defenseless being, a stranger wherever he finds himself.
